

THE TERRORS OF THE TINY TADS

1—A Tiny Tad is sitting on a great big rock one day. When all at once it seems to move and slowly walk away.

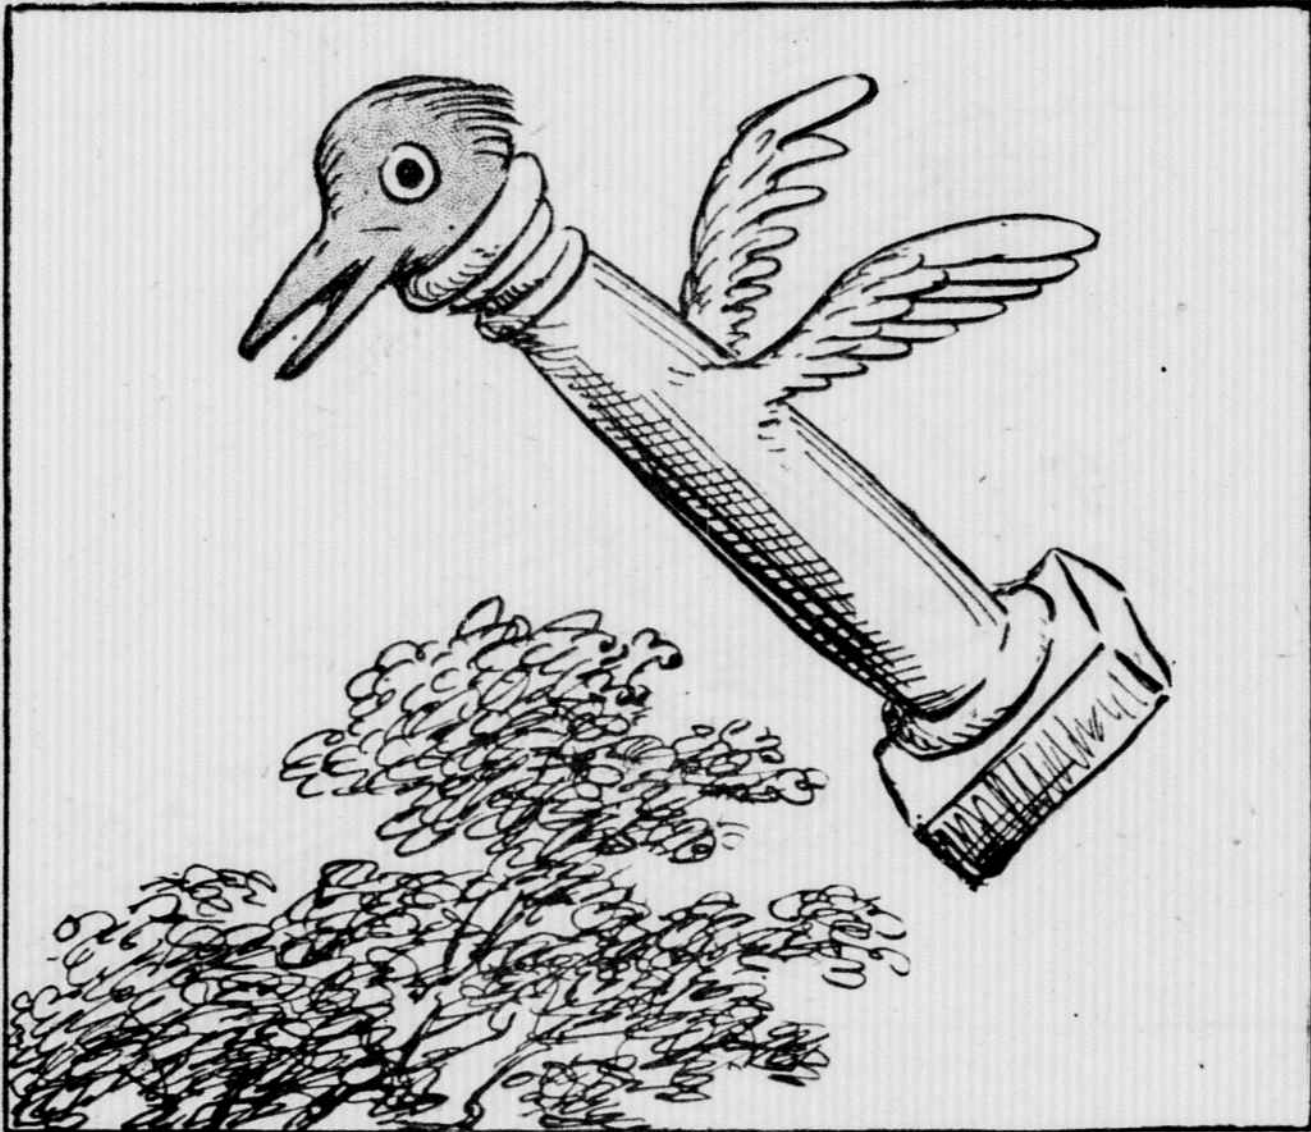

2—"Oh, horrors!" cries the Tiny Tad, "I thought it was a stone! But it is a Rocktopus, and I'm on it all alone."

3—And Then a Brickthysaurus comes; the two begin to fight! The Tiny tumbles to the ground and rolls around in fright.

4—A Mastodonkey joins the fray, and he is very nice. He drives away the other things by charging on them twice.

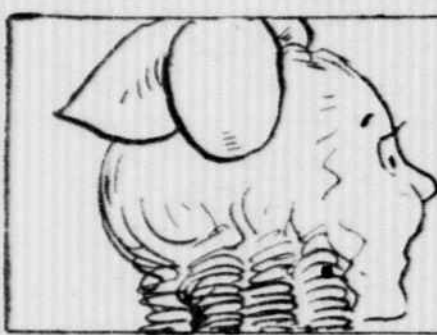

5—A Pillark also helps the Tad, who runs unto his mates. And using many funny words his story he relates.

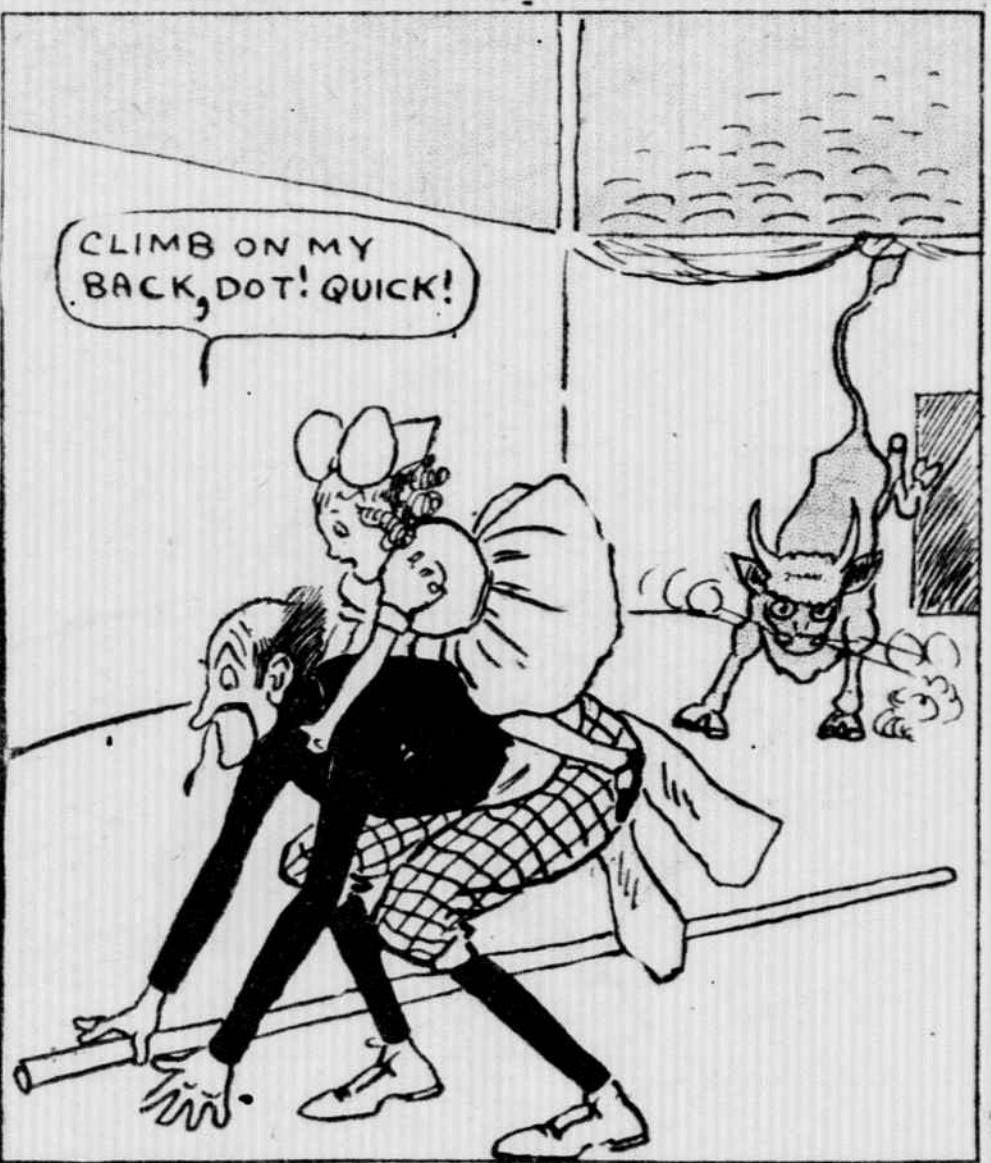

6—"Say, fellows," he bombasts to them, "we kicked them in the chest! That Elephantidiluvian thing—and me, we fought the rest."

(COPYRIGHT, 1912, BY THE NEW YORK HERALD CO.)
All Rights Reserved.

Rebeck

UNCLE MUN

(COPYRIGHT, 1912, BY THE NEW YORK HERALD CO.)
All Rights Reserved.

MOO—OO—OO!

Rebeck